Creating a Stronger Business Through Sustainable, Eco-Friendly Products

PacknWood is known for bringing new products and innovations to the food service industry. With its expert teams, PacknWood products address various challenges, including sustainability, waste, and aesthetic presentation. We continue to innovate new solutions that align with the latest legislative compliance requirements, eco-friendly values, and shifts in consumer expectations.

We have added new packaging solutions to our catalog, such as single use food-safe containers and reusable accessories for cooking, serving, transport, and meal presentation. These products feature classic materials, including metal, glass, and porcelain, as well as new and innovative composite materials, such as compostable and biodegradable products and sustainable plastics. Plus, we still offer traditional food service products loved by generations, such as enameled steel and ceramics.

To go even further, PacknWood uses an ISO 14001 approach. This initiative is based on the principle of continuous improvement of environmental performance by controlling the impact of a company's activities. After completing our first carbon assessment, we implemented actions to reduce our footprint as much as possible. We propose sustainable, beautiful, and forward-thinking solutions for the future. So whether your strategy is to sell on-site, takeaway, catering, or to implement a deposit policy in your store, we will find the solutions and advice you need to support you in your approach.

EVER WONDERED WHAT GOES INTO CRAFTING OUR PRODUCTS? LET’S BREAK DOWN THE MATERIALS WE USE

ALUMINUM

Aluminum is a metal known for its lightweight, strength, and versatility. It’s a popular choice in the food industry due to its cost-effectiveness and durability, while also providing a high-end appearance.

COFFEE GROUND PLA BLENDS

Combining PLA (Polylactic Acid) with ground coffee creates innovative and sustainable food packaging options. The result is flexible and lightweight packaging with unique texture and natural color variations from the coffee grounds, enhancing its aesthetic appeal. This combination reduces environmental impact and promotes sustainability.

METAL

Metal tableware is durable, resistant to breakage, and can handle high temperatures, making it long-lasting and perfect for serving hot foods. Reusable and recyclable, it’s an eco-friendly alternative to disposables and comes in various designs for both casual and formal dining needs, from casual meals to formal occasions.

PORCELAIN

Porcelain, made from refined clay and fired at higher temperatures, results in a dense and usually very white material. It is reusable, allowing for long-lasting use and continued elegance. Due to its excellent presentation, porcelain is often reserved for display or special occasions.

STAINLESS STEEL

Stainless steel, an iron-based alloy, excels in corrosion resistance, durability, and aesthetics. Free from BPA and toxins, it ensures food safety. Its longevity and low maintenance making it cost-effective for the food industry, enhancing packaging quality, safety, and sustainability.

BAMBOO/FIBER

Bamboo is the fastest growing plant on Earth, capable of growing up to 24 inches overnight. It requires minimal water and no chemicals to thrive. Being 100% biodegradable, it’s one of our most popular materials. We transform bamboo into durable and stylish serving dishes, cutlery, and skewers. They are incredibly sturdy and can handle both hot and cold foods.

COTTON

Cotton, a natural fiber primarily made of cellulose, is harvested from cotton plant bolls (genus Gossypium). It can be shaped into products like bags, napkins, and tablecloths. Cotton’s breathability helps keep food fresh and reduces moisture buildup. It supports sustainability, making it an excellent choice for businesses.

PAPER/CARDBOARD

Paper/cardboard are environmentally sustainable choices over plastic. Paper food packaging comes in various designs, sizes, & colors, making it ideal for all occasions, from casual picnics to formal events, suitable for high-end restaurants to street food vendors.

PALM LEAF

Palm leaves from various palm tree species in tropical and subtropical regions are used to create tableware with a unique, natural look. This adds a rustic and elegant touch to dining settings, perfect for special occasions.

SUGARCANE

Sugarcane, derived from fibrous residue after juice extraction, is safe for direct food contact and free from harmful chemicals. It can be molded into plates, bowls, takeout containers, cups, lids, trays, and cutlery. This eco-friendly material meets the demand for health-conscious packaging. Sugarcane packaging offers long-term economic benefits through sustainability, waste reduction, and brand enhancement.

COCONUT

Coconuts are the fruit of the coconut palm. They are versatile and can be used to create various packaging products, including biodegradable paper, bioplastics, and composites. These qualities make coconut materials an appealing choice for eco-conscious food industries aiming to reduce their carbon footprint.

ENAMEL

Enamel tableware, made from metal and coated with enamel, is sturdy, chip-resistant, and heat-resistant. Popular in both commercial and household settings, it offers an elegant and durable option for serving.

PET

PET (Polyethylene Terephthalate) is durable, resistant to breakage, and protects food products during transport. Recyclable and eco-friendly, PET is suitable for various food products, from beverages to ready-to-eat meals, and has a minimal environmental footprint.

REED

Reed material comes from the stems and leaves of tall, grass-like plants that thrive in wetlands, especially those from the genus Phragmites (common reeds). It can be fashioned into trays and plates for serving food, imparting a rustic and natural charm to dining experiences. Being biodegradable and compostable, reed is an environmentally friendly choice for the food industry.

WHEAT

Wheat material is derived from wheat grains and other parts of the plant. It is biodegradable and compostable, naturally breaking down without harmful residues. This supports a cleaner environment, making any food packaging made from wheat perfect for eco-conscious consumers and businesses while enhancing your business’s sustainability efforts.

CORNSTARCH (PLA)

PLA stands for Polylactic Acid, a biodegradable and bioactive thermoplastic derived from renewable resources like corn starch or sugarcane. PLA is an attractive option for eco-conscious food industries looking to improve sustainability and reduce their environmental impact.

GLASS/BOROSILICATE GLASS

Glass tableware, including dishes, bowls, cups, and glasses, is valued for its clarity, versatility, and elegance. Our double-wall glass products, made from borosilicate glass, maintain food temperature due to their thermal shock resistance. Both ideal for casual and formal dining, it enhances food and beverage presentation.

PP & WHEAT STRAW (HUSKLY)

Polypropylene (PP), a versatile thermoplastic polymer, and wheat straw, a plant-based material, combine to offer sustainable alternatives to conventional plastics. PP provides durability and versatility, while wheat straw offers an eco-friendly option made from agricultural waste. Together, they help reduce environmental impact and promote sustainability.

RUBBER

Rubber, an elastic material from natural or synthetic sources, is valued for its flexibility, durability, and resilience. Rubber seals make jars leak-proof, ideal for storing and transporting liquids without spills. This added convenience and assurance of food quality enhance customer satisfaction and their overall dining experience.

WOOD/WOOD FIBER

Wood/Wood fiber, derived from tree stems and branches, primarily consists of cellulose. It’s safe for food contact, free from harmful chemicals, and preserves food quality. Its rustic charm enhances food presentation. Some regions offer incentives for adopting sustainable practices, making wood/wood fiber packaging material a viable option.

CRYSTALLIZED CORNSTARCH (CPLA)

CPLA (Crystallized Polylactic Acid) is an enhanced form of PLA with improved heat resistance, ideal for hot food containers and cutlery. CPLA and PLA are biodegradable and derived from renewable resources like cornstarch, offering eco-friendly alternatives to traditional plastics.

JUTE

Jute, a natural fiber from the jute plant, is biodegradable and compostable, making it an eco-friendly alternative to plastics. Using jute in packaging reduces the carbon footprint and can enhance a food company’s brand image, attracting environmentally conscious consumers and increasing customer loyalty and sales.

PP & RECYCLE PP

PP (Polypropylene) is a type of plastic that is known for its durability, flexibility, and resistance to heat and chemicals. Its transparency is perfect for food storage, allowing visibility of contents. These properties make PP suitable for long-term use, reducing replacements and promoting sustainability.

SILICONE

Silicone, made from silicon, oxygen, carbon, and hydrogen, is a versatile, flexible, & durable synthetic material resistant to extreme temperatures. FDA-approved, it suits hot & cold food products without contamination. Its Tear-resistant and reusable, ideal for diverse packaging needs by offering cost savings and attracting loyal customers.

WATERBASE COATING

Water-based coatings provide a protective barrier on paper and cardboard packaging. These coatings are made from water-soluble polymers, such as acrylic or biodegradable materials, and are applied as a liquid onto the surface of the packaging. Implementing water-based coatings enables businesses to comply with environmental regulations more effectively, thereby avoiding fines and enhancing their market reputation.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR USE

HOW TO OPERATE

Once rollers are in place:

- A Push the power button to the left.
- B Adjust temperature settings based on the materials being used.
- C Wait for the operating light to change from green to red (approximately 3-5 minutes).
- D Slide the tray out and place a container with a matching diameter.
- E Slide the tray in and let the machine work its magic
- F Prevent overflow by keeping the container's radius dry for optimal sealing.
- G After use, allow the machine to cool off for an hour.

Sealing Temperature for
PET Clear Roll = 200F
Sealing Temperature for
Paper Roll = 250F

*Exceeding the recommended heat may cause the paper to tear.

CLEANING THE MACHINE

CLEAN

1. First take out the film. Roll up the unused side so the bottom has no film left. Now, you can clean the heating plate.
2. Use a wet towel to wipe the heating plate. If you smell glue, keep rubbing to remove the residue. NOTE: Do not turn on the heat while cleaning. Wear gloves to stay safe.
3. If the residue is hard to remove with a towel, use a blade to gently scrape it off.

DIRTY

TEMPERATURE CONTROL PANEL

1. The red number indicates the actual temperature.
2. The green number indicates the set temperature.
3. Set Key, used to set and confirm temperature.
4. Shift Key, used to jump position, setting the temperature using ones, tenths, or hundredths place.
5. Decrease Key, used to decrease the digit of the setting temperature.
6. Increase Key, used to increase the digit of the setting temperature.
